

Yes, we are open to that and have no plans for any significant commercial activities in that space.