

This appears to be a question for the town and villages, however we will note:
The Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail, Inc. is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization registered in New York State. What you are suggesting is akin to a special arbitrary tax by local municipalities on one individual's donations to a registered charitable organization. This is not in accordance with IRS code. The Philipstown Recreation Commission oversees the use of local taxpayer dollars that fund the town's recreational budget and the Friends of Philipstown Recreation raises additional funds for extraordinary projects. All community members can donate to this very worthy organization.
