

Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail

The project is at the Master Plan stage and any cost estimates are very general. Detailed cost estimates are developed throughout the design development process at specific intervals, when accurate information on site work, material quantities, landscape material, and other design specifications on which to base the estimate, is available. Breakneck Connector & Bridge is the only project currently at that stage in design development. Those cost estimates will not be shared prior to bidding so as not to compromise our procurement process.
