

Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail

We are working with visitation management experts to understand "desired conditions," like how many users is a comfortable number, on the main trail and meanders like Little Stony Point or Breakneck. This will help inform use-demand management tools and techniques to manage capacity we can employ when operating.