

Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail

Test borings have been conducted for the Breakneck and Bridge project and Shoreline Trail at this time. The results, which tell the soil composition and depth to bedrock, inform the structural engineers as they detail out their designs. Once designs are beyond the conceptual stage, more information will be available.