

Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail

Beyond the employment opportunities in all categories that Fjord Trail will bring to the region, there is evidence that proximity to recreational amenities like linear parks and rail trails can increase local real estate values. According to the National Association of Realtors, living near trails and greenways will likely raise property values an average of 3-5% and sometimes even as high as 15%.