

Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail

The Fjord Trail is being designed to diffuse visitation (including during those peak spring and autumn seasons that you mentioned) along its 7.5-mile route via six unique entry points. Those who choose to drive to the trail will be directed to park in one of HHFT's lots north of Cold Spring and will be dissuaded—via signage, our website, and other materials—from entering the Village by car at all. The shuttle system will create a convenient option for trail users who wish to walk one way on the trail and ride back to the lot they parked in. Tour buses visiting the Fjord Trail will be instructed to arrive only at the Dutchess Manor Visitor Center. As you note, the problem already exists, and our goal is to introduce a way to diffuse that visitation.
