

Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail

Climate change and increasing storm and flooding activity are indeed a serious threat here and across the entire Hudson Valley. The Fjord Trail plan is being thoughtfully designed with these factors in mind. While it cannot solve these threats born from climate change, the plan is in the interest of local communities seeking relief from under-managed tourism in the region and people of all ages and abilities who seek to enjoy NYS public parkland.