

Hudson Highlands Fjord Trail

We understand that some community members are not in favor of the trail. Many of us (staff and board) are ourselves community members and have deep relationships with folks who have questions and concerns about the project. We truly understand, respect, and appreciate this. Every person brings their own point of view to the conversation and we are committed to finding common ground, reconciling misunderstandings, and creating a solution to the chronic issues plaguing the area. We're very interested in working together with residents to ensure that the Fjord Trail meets community needs, as community input has shaped the project from the very start.
