

Riverkeeper is a member of the Fjord Trail's Steering Committee. Their mission is to protect the river and they embrace the value of connecting people with the river. They are participating in the design process for the Shoreline Trail to help shape the end result. They have not indicated support for the design yet, as it is still in the very early conceptual stage.

The environmental review process will assess disturbance.